Auditing Strategic & ESG Risk: Building Governance Resilience

11th - 13th
August 2026

Johannesburg -
South Africa

Course Overview

Strategic risks are among the most significant drivers of organizational success or failure. Yet internal audit functions often hesitate to assess strategy because it is seen as the domain of boards and executive management. At the same time, organizations are increasingly expected to demonstrate not only financial performance, but also sustainability, stakeholder value, and measurable social impact.

This course closes that gap. It equips internal auditors with the knowledge, frameworks, and practical tools needed to audit strategy formulation, strategy execution, and ESG strategy integration. Participants will learn how to assess the quality of strategic analysis, governance, implementation, and reporting, and how to evaluate whether ESG activities genuinely create value.

A special emphasis on Day 3 extends the traditional strategy audit perspective into ESG strategy, ESG performance measurement, ROI of ESG initiatives, and social impact measurement, enabling internal auditors to provide stronger assurance and more strategic insight to boards and senior management.
